Grupo Supra becomes part of the CVS Group

Madrid, Feb 18, 2025

CVS Group announces the successful acquisition of a majority stake in Grupo Supra, which took place at the end of 2024. Grupo Supra, a company specializing in comprehensive fire protection solutions with its own engineering department, is based in Murcia and employs around 70 people. The company provides its services throughout Spain.

By integrating Grupo Supra, CVS Group expands its fire protection division with a specialist in large-scale installations and additionally opens up a new business area with safety installations.

Since 2014, Grupo Supra has experienced continuous growth and has established itself as a significant player in the field of active fire protection. This growth is based on an experienced team as well as the company's ability to drive technical innovations, particularly in the area of installations.

With the integration of Grupo Supra, CVS Group strengthens its position in the fire protection industry and consolidates its role as a leading independent corporate group for technical installations on the Iberian Peninsula.

As an exclusive M&A advisor, Sancovia initiated the transaction and advised the buyer throughout the entire transaction process.
